^{Am} C. ^{Dm} Happy the man whose fault is forgiven

^{Am} and whose sin has been pardoned

^G happy the man to whom God reckons no evil ^{Am}

^G and in whose spirit is no deceit. ^{Am}

C&A. I MANIFESTED TO YOU MY SIN

C. I kept silent and my bones wasted away while I was moaning all day long day and night heavy upon me your hand
as for summer heat my strength dried up.

C&A. I MANIFESTED TO YOU MY SIN

C. Therefore every faithful praises you in time of anguish
when mighty waters will rush in
they will never reach him.

C&A. I MANIFESTED TO YOU MY SIN

C. Be not like the horse and like the mule without understanding their pride is curbed with bit and bridle
else they do not get near you.
